I have an evaluation reservation or verification proposal, where can I contact?

We do not claim absolute truth or correctness, our work is always open to your suggestions and comments. If you know of any source or information that is not in accordance with our evaluations, write to us at info@demagog.cz.

Your feedback is processed as follows:

1. Your comments are forwarded to our editors.
2. All newly provided information and resources are thoroughly vetted.
3. On the basis of this new analysis, the existing evaluation of the statement is subsequently modified or retained.
4. If the newly provided information/sources are recognized as relevant and the evaluation of the statement is adjusted based on them, this fact is explicitly stated for the given statement and published in the same way as the original evaluation incl. sharing on social networks. In the justification, there is a "correction" with a note on how the new assessment differs from the original one.

We are also open to your suggestions regarding the possibilities of the verification itself. If you come across a statement by a top politician or a political discussion that, from your point of view, deviates from the standard of Czech public debate, or which interests you, also let us know at info@demagog.cz. As part of our activity, these stimuli can be an important impulse for us to verify the matter in question. Our editors deal with each suggestion and assess it from the point of view of our methodology. If your proposed statement is verifiable and meets our time constraints and content consistency requirements, we will be happy to verify it.

Thank you in advance for all suggestions!
